

The true story of a man who found forgiveness after 43 years as a Criminal.

Broken Chains

Sam Betros
Author of Broken Chains
and Volunteer for Prison
Fellowship in Queensland

Take a walk through the life of a man who grew up in an immigrant family in Sydney, Australia and started early in a life of crime.

Follow his journey from a troubled childhood to a "Boy's Home" where he was exposed to serious abuse.

Imprisoned at sixteen for car theft, he gives an up-close view of his frightening experiences on the inside – where he was to return many times.

Crime, gambling, confusion and fear became the 'chains' that held him – inside and outside prison. Bouts of paranoid schizophrenia and occult practices drove him over the edge until he encountered the Living God...

"Sam's Testimony is remarkable. This man has a past that society despises, but his present life is one that others admire applaud – such is the grace of God. Sam's future is written in God's book of life, in the company of thousands and thousands of souls who like Sam had placed their faith in Jesus Christ" - Claude Fingleton, Pastor

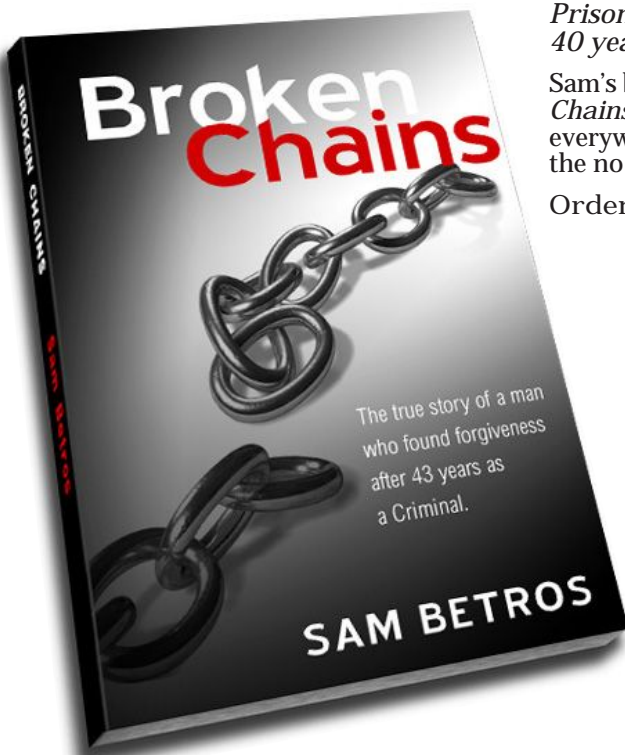

"For the last six years I have observed the consistency in Sam's Life exchanging his old ways for his love and desire to know more of Christ NOW. There is no other word for Grace except 'AMAZING'. God's favour and blessings are very evident in Sam's life." - Ivan Westbrook, Pastor

"This book sheds light into the depths of a prison cell, and into the deeper abyss of a lost human heart, and takes you through the battle and on to freedom." -Wendy Thornton

"The life of Sam Betros proves that only God can save and change people, not systems" - Doug Belott, Retired police officer

"I first met Sam Betros in march, 1989. At first sight it was evident that he had no peace, the storms of life was clearly etched in the lines of his face. Today, Sam is living a life of peace, totally delivered from the life he had experienced in the past." - Peter Symonds, Sales Manager
